

REFERENDUM TO DECIDE LUCY ISSUE

Students' Society Meeting Ends In No Decision

QUORUM DISPERSES PREVENTING VOTE

by Bryna Feingold

The quorum at yesterday's Students' Society meeting was lost as the supporters of a motion to table the the Autherine Lucy resolution walked out en masse after seeing the motion defeated by a majority of the students present.

The Resolutions

The resolutions read:

WHEREAS the students feel that Miss Lucy's actions have been that of a brave and courageous woman; therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED that the Students' Executive Council of McGill be authorized by the Students' Society to write and encourage Miss Lucy in her stand, and assure her that if she is forced to leave her struggle, that a scholarship from student funds will be provided for her if she wishes to study at McGill; and,

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that if Miss Lucy does not accept the Students' Society offer, that a scholarship be provided to some other victim of racial prejudice from the southern United States.

In presenting the resolution to the meeting, Ralph Ordower, External Affairs Chairman, explained that a scholarship would be offered ed Miss Lucy only if she saw she were legally forced to withdraw from the struggle she is waging at the University of Alabama.

Ordower advocated taking a clear-cut stand on the issue. "Let us make our deeds deeds. McGill is a place where a mob does not rise against a person of a different race or color, and we are proud of it. We must act because we are not isolationists, because we believe in certain things."

Schafer — Out of Order

The resolution was seconded by George Schafer, who subsequently proposed an amendment to it; he was called out of order.

Steve Hemmingway questioned McGill's motives in offering the scholarship to Miss Lucy.

"We know Miss Lucy will not accept the scholarship; if she did she'd be going against the principle of the whole thing. Isn't this

ORIGINAL RESOLUTION SPLIT INTO THREE

by Bryna Feingold

Students will vote on the Autherine Lucy resolution by referendum some time in the near future.

The motion passed by the SEC last night provided for the splitting up of the original resolution into three. It now reads:

1. Be it resolved that the SEC write and encourage Miss Lucy in her stand
2. Be it resolved that the SEC assure her that if she is forced to leave her struggle that a scholarship from student funds be provided for her if she wishes to study at McGill
3. Be it resolved that if Miss Lucy does not accept the Student Society offer, that a scholarship be provided to some other victim of racial prejudice from the southern United States.

Referendum Preferable

It was felt that a referendum was preferable to holding another Students' Society meeting because, in the words of Morrie Shohet, "the issue is big enough not to allow 300 people to railroad it through."

Shohet also proposed the form of the resolution to assume three parts.

Miss Joan Caplan, Women's Union President, suggested that the scholarship money be given to the NAACP, as was brought up yesterday afternoon at the Students' Society meeting.

Ralph Ordower refuted this, claiming a move of that sort would remove the issue from the university level.

Three Appointments

Three appointments were made by SEC which include Don MacSween as Convocation Activities Chairman, Louis Donolo as Prom Committee Chairman, and Ken Davies as President of the Amateur Radio Club.

A motion was passed setting down procedure for Motions to Reconsider. The SEC had not previously had only such formal procedure.

Motions To Reconsider Procedure

The motion stated that if a Motion to Reconsider of a previous motion which had been either carried or defeated, were brought up at the same meeting, it would need to be carried by a 3/4 majority. If the Motion to Reconsider were brought up at any subsequent meeting, a 2/3 majority would be required to carry it.

The Symphonic Band Constitution was approved, as was the financing of a Choral Society "Quartet" trip to the University of Toronto.

SHOHET, STIRLING VIE FOR TOP POSTS

Nominations closed today for the various positions at stake in the campus-wide elections on March 7. Students' Union, Women's Union, SAC, and Students' Society posts are to be filled in the forthcoming election.

Morrie Shohet, B. Eng. 4, and Donald Stirling, B. D. 1, have been nominated for President of the Students' Society, the highest student position on the campus.

Union Elections

Alec Bhanos, B. Comm. 3, Bill Feldman, B. A. 3, Bob Gualtieri, B. A. 2, and David Lochhead, B. Sc. 2, are contesting the post of Union President. Acclaimed as President of the Students' Athletic Council was Tim Wagg, B. Eng. 4.

For Women's Union President, there is a choice among Janet Buzzell, Janet Ledain, and Barbara Shipman. Beverly Bartram, Joan Fish, Neal Mahan, Pat Perry, Mary Sinclair, and Judy Spoford are running for Member-at-large on the Women's Union. The post of Women's Union Secretary will be filled by either Louise MacLeod, Joan Sanderson, or Elizabeth Vale. Wendy Brock, Sheila Morris, and Ann Pearson have been nominated for President of the McGill Women Students Athletic Association (MWSAA).

ASUS Nominations

Nominations for positions on the ASUS are to be handed in to George in the Union Tuckshop by 2 pm on Friday, Feb. 29. These must be signed by twenty-five regular undergraduates.

The President must be male, and in his third year. First Vice-

TWO NEW PROFESSORS APPOINTED TO STAFF

Principal F. Cyril James announced the appointment of two new professors yesterday. Dr. S. B. Frost and George Catlin have been named to the Faculty and will arrive from England to take up their duties on September 1, 1956.

Dr. Stanley B. Frost has been chosen to succeed Dr. R. B. Y. Scott in the Birks Chair of Old Testament Language and Literature in the Faculty of Divinity. Dr. Frost was born in London and holds degrees from the London University and Marburg University.

George A. G. Catlin will occupy the Bronfman Chair of Political Science in the Faculty of Arts and Science. Educated at St. Paul School and New College Oxford, from which he graduated with highest honours in the Modern History School, Professor Catlin has had a distinguished academic career. He has held teaching posts at Sheffield University, University of California, and Cornell. He is a prolific writer and has had many of his works published. Professor Catlin succeeds Dr. Frederick Watkins in the Bronfman Chair.

YOUR CONSCIENCE

It is fairly safe to say the majority of the members of the Student's Society who attended yesterday's meeting left dissatisfied for one reason or for another.

For the meeting itself, indecision and wooly-headedness were the keynotes. The right and the wrong of the Lucy issue were obscured in civil war American history, half-baked points of order and semi-organized disapproval of "we-know-not-what". Much criticism could be leveled at individuals and at points of view as a result of the rather chaotic proceedings.

This is not the job before the students of McGill now. There will be a referendum, a campus wide vote on the question. The job facing McGill students is to make up their minds on the motion and to go to the polls to communicate their decision.

There has been, and there still is, enough time for each and every student at McGill to examine his or her conscience, to decide for himself where he stands, and to go on record.

Nothing can be gained by tossing brick-bats at those who spoke yesterday. Nothing can be gained by reiterating our stand. It has become a matter of individual conscience. This is what a referendum is for.

BAR-B-Q AND BUTLER

"Beauty crieth in an attic and no man regardeth
O God! O Montreal!"

Samuel Butler's 'Psalm' to our city's cultural limitations written in 1875, remains Montreal's most famous literary tribute. Generally, English-speaking Montrealers seem to look elsewhere for creative inspiration, although the city is as humorous, colourful, and gay as Pagnol's Marseille or Runyon's Broadway.

In fact, we can boast a specially flavoured wit resulting from the incomplete fusion of our varied cultures. For example, a restaurant on St. Lawrence Boulevard calls itself 'Au Smoked Meat' and a delicatessen on Sherbrooke St. is known as 'The Notre Dame de Grace Kosher Meat Market'. In his poem 'Bonne Entente' Professor Frank Scott quotes an advertisement reading: "Tomorrow being the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, There will be no collection of garbage in the city."

This year's Red and White Revue was particularly disappointing from this point of view. Although billed as satirical, it contained almost no comment on local, or even Canadian, topics. One young lady, we remember, was going to Washington, although our own Department of External Affairs must be at least as comic as the American's. The point is not that there is nothing worth making fun of in the U.S. But there are already a large number of talented people exposing the ridiculous south of the border; it would be more original and more satisfying in a student created and student supported production to hold the mirror up to ourselves.

To see what is being done in this line in French there is 'Au Boeu Qui Rit' (two blocks east of R.V.C., first bar on the left) and next month there will be Fridolin's new revue. Our own producers might well take a leaf from their books. For a university, if it is to participate fully in the life of its community, should know not only how to wear the cap and gown. It should also learn to wear the cap and bells.

Letters to the Editor

Irresponsible

Sir:

Yesterday in the 'McGill Daily', it was implied that Premier Maurice Duplessis has been staying at an "English" hotel on his trips to Montreal during the past several years.

During this period of time, I believe that the President of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel has been Francois Dupre, also head of the George V in Paris — one of the best known and most exclusive hotels in all of France. The General Manager of the Ritz-Carlton is John G. Contat and he is at least of French ancestry. During the past several years the Board of Directors is said to have been dominated by persons friendly to, or associated with, French and Swiss interests.

Apparently this is just another example of the "irresponsible journalism" which has become such a common occurrence nowadays.

L. O. Facto, B. A. 3.

Support

Sir:

In response to your editorial of February 14, I am enclosing $10. — as a contribution to the fund for Autherine Lucy. As you suggested, this fund might be used to establish a bursary for Miss Lucy or another young Negro from the South at McGill.

Alternatively, the money might be offered to allow one of her white fellow students to seek more congenial surroundings in South Africa.

J. Lambek,

Department of Mathematics.

Lack of Support

Sir:

Last Wednesday, I read in the Daily that the petition that was being circulated calling for the condemnation of the student body of the University of Alabama has failed due to a lack of signatures by the students of McGill. I and a great majority of the students with whom I have spoken to concerning the petition have never even seen it, although we were all in favour of such a move.

I suggest that an increased number of petitions be circulated so that the required amount of signatures can be obtained.

A. Brotman,

B. Comm. II.

Kudos for Cohen

Sir:

I have followed with some interest the series of articles published in the 'Daily' in connection with the 'Miss Lucy Affair'. I admire the 'President's Stand' (20-2-56), and wholeheartedly agree with him when he states that:

"Miss Lucy should be congr-tulated for a stand the courageousness of which is inspiring. She should be encouraged to continue her valiant struggle in the only place where it can be won — the University of Alabama."

Well said!

Indeed the battle can only be won at the University of Alabama. To withdraw would be to admit defeat, thus leaving the southern Negroes undefeated, the southern whites undefeated. Our prime concern should not be that Miss Lucy be afforded an opportunity to further her studies — much as we do hope so — but rather that this southern University ends its reign of bigotry and discrimination, and opens wide its doors to whites and Negroes alike.

We should send our reinforcements to the scene of battle by giving this brave young lady our moral support, and assuring her of our willingness to assist her in her struggle. Miss Lucy's is a great and noble cause, and as members of the World Community of Students, we should be ready and willing to help her wage the battle until it is ultimately won.

Clarence King,

B. Sc. III.

Grave Injustice

Sir:

I believe that a grave injustice has been done to the students of McGill. In the article "Back Stage with the Queen", you professed to expose the "Vital Statistics" of our carnival queen. I feel that the student body of this University ought to have the complete and detailed statistics, and that the McGill Daily by suppressing the vilest statistics is keeping the true and important information from the students.

POST-MORTEM

by Irwin Sankoff

Rocky Robillard, popular McGill hockey coach, was in a chipper mood last Friday night after his Redmen had beaten the University of Montreal Carabins 7-3 to win the Birks Trophy. Since Rocky has been at McGill, both as a coach and player for the football squads, the teams haven't won many laurels of any kind, and so, when the hockey crew came through last week, 'the Rock' was all smiles. The Redmen of four years ago won the Birks Trophy by beating U of M 2-1 in a close match, and last year they won the Alphonse Raymond Trophy as the best Intercollegiate hockey team in the province. That just about sums up the silverware won by the McGill hockey team since Robillard started coaching them five years ago.

Even when Rocky was cavorting on the gridiron, and flashing down the ice lanes prior to his coaching chores, the teams he played on at Old McGill didn't have any luck as far as championships went. Individually though, Rocky did all right for himself as he won the Stuart Forbes Trophy, which is about the highest honour that can come to an athlete at McGill. But it could be that 'the Rock's' luck is finally turning with the Redmen's winning of the Birks Trophy. The McGill hockey team is getting stronger every year and next year with their own rink should be a definite championship contender from the beginning of the season.

Speaking of championship, it would appear that Varsity, who play here on Friday, have the Queen's Cup clinched. Actually this is not the whole truth. Both the Redmen and Laval have a chance to wind up the season with the Intercollegiate crown. To do this, either of the latter two teams would have to finish in second place. Since both teams have beaten the Blues, it is logical that there should be a playoff game for the title. In looking over the league constitution the other day we find that there is no provision which says that there should be a game for the championship, but then again, there is none that says there shouldn't be a sudden death game for the loop laurels.

Since in nearly all other sports (football, etc.) there is a rule made by the CIAU that calls for a playoff if the second place team has taken points from the first place finishers, it would seem that the Redmen would have a good case for a playoff game in the event that they finish second. We see no reason why hockey should be different than other sports and since the CIAU has a rule stated for football (the rule seeming to be general), there should be a playoff game for the league title. You can bet your last dollar that if the Redmen beat Toronto on Friday, the powers that be up at the Gym will start looking into the question more thoroughly and will keep the wires buzzing between Montreal and the CIAU offices in Toronto in an effort to come up with the answer to the question.

President must be female, and in her second year; Second Vice-President should be male, and in his second year. Corresponding Secretary and Recording Secretary are to be females, in their first year. Treasurer should be male, and in his third year, and Athletics Representative must be male, and in his second year.

Elections for all these positions will take place on Wednesday, March 7.

Redmen Snipers Entertain Varsity Puck Squad

The University of Toronto hockey team visits the McGill Redmen this Friday in an attempt to gain revenge after a 2-1 defeat handed them by the Redmen at Toronto two weeks ago. The game is slated for the Forum, 8.30 pm.

Leading the invading Toronto forces, currently riding high in first place in the Intercollegiate standings, will be the league's leading scorer, Ken Linseman. Linseman has scored 13 goals to date and has set up 9 others. In the last Montreal meeting between the two teams, Linseman starred in a 7-3 Varsity victory.

According to Redmen coach, Rocky Robillard, it is highly unlikely that a repeat of this 7-3 shellacking will take place. The Red and White crew have won three of their last four games and should actually have won the fourth as well. Their most recent outing saw them coast to a 7-3 win over the Carabins from U. of M.

Rocky does not plan any specific changes for Friday's tilt. Dinty O'Shaughnessy, who has recently turned in one or two scintillating performances, is expected to handle the goaltending chores. He will have two defence pairs in front of him, consisting of Jim Grant and Brian McMullan, and Len Sigurdson and Doug Maule. Maule has come a long way since the beginning of the year; he is probably the most improved player on the club.

The forward lines will consist of the usual trios, McCann, Baltzan, and Konyk, and Constable, Currie and Jackie McMullan, with Ross Hughes taking turns on both lines. Warren Allmand will see action in a utility role.

Brian McCann will be in a position to take over the League

Co-ed Cagers Play Tilt At Kingston

The Girls' Intercollegiate Basketball team will be leaving this Friday morning for Queen's U. where they will take part in a tournament with Toronto, Western, and Queen's. Representing the Red and White are: Betty Alexander, Virginia Carter, Judy Earle, Fran Laurin, Dorothy May, and Maris Oamer as forwards and Judy Bowman, Dody Davidson, Joan Sanderson, Shannon Stone, Helen Tucker, and Dorte Underhill as guards.

These girls were chosen from McGill's winning Inter-city Championship team, thus their chances are quite good. The four teams will play off on Friday evening, then on Saturday the winners of each match will play off for the championship.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

On Tuesday afternoon, the McGill Women's Intramural Ski Meet was held on the University of Montreal hill. The winner of the Giant Slalom was Tish Heeney of Arts with a time of eighteen seconds. Judy Kaulbach of Science placed second. Nine co-eds competed and the combined time of their best two runs was taken. Physical Education, Arts and Science were represented.

The Intramural Girl's Fencing Meet will be held tonight in the Currie gym. Anyone interested is invited to enter. The winners of this meet will fence the winners of the Monday group for the championship.

scoring leadership in this game. At present he is two points behind Linseman. His linemates, Leo Konyk, and Dick Baltzan have also been fattening their scoring averages lately and the three now constitute the hottest combination in the league.

The reliable Peter Constable-Gord Currie-Jack McMullan line seems to have snapped out of an early-season lethargy as Currie & McGill pumped home goals last Friday. With these two lines functioning well, the Redmen will be mighty hard to beat.

Ross Hughes has been used recently on the McGill power play at left wing, with Leo Konyk shifted to the point position. This move has been reasonably effective, but it seems that a little more experimenting might be done in this regard.

NFCUS Referendum Called At UNB

Fredericton (CUP).

In reply to a student petition, a special meeting of the University of New Brunswick Student Representative Council approved a referendum as to whether UNB will remain in NFCUS next year. The referendum will be presented to the student body on Feb. 29.

On January 25, UNB withdrew from NFCUS for twenty minutes when the SRC temporarily defeated a motion to pass the second instalment of NFCUS fees. A campus petition was organized and resulted in the forthcoming referendum.

Last fall, the SRC voted unanimously to remain in NFCUS for the college year. Apparently, UNB students were considering then withdrawal from NFCUS, but the decision of the SRC defeated this. The new referendum has again presented the possibility of a secession on the part of UNB.

'OLD MCGILL' SALES RESUME MONDAY

Old McGill will open its second campaign of the year this Monday. Jaime Dunton, Annual Editor, has announced several new features to be included in the Annual.

The old division of the book into large sections on Graduates, Student Activities, and Sports has been discarded in favour of a completely new alphabetical arrangement adopted to make the book more interesting and particular activities or clubs easier to locate. More attention is being paid to the activities of the undergraduate societies of the various faculties.

A new experiment in printing style is being made with the use of different colours of ink. While most of the book will be printed in black ink, a few sections will be completely printed in some other colour, such as blue or brown. This year, advertisements will be spread throughout the book so as to be more interesting to the student and thus of greater advertising value.

The Annual contains pictorial coverage of the activities of every club on the campus as well as of all types of sports. Pictures and biographies of all graduating students will be featured.

Messages from the Chancellor, the Principal, the Dean of each faculty, the Director of each school, the two athletic directors, and from the President of the Graduates' Society will be included in Old McGill.

Old McGill this year will be dedicated to all the students at McGill. A tribute will be paid to members of the faculty who have died in the past year.

The Annual is sold only by subscription, as the number of books printed depends on the number of orders placed. Printing cost per volume is ten dollars, and the selling price is five dollars, one-half of printing costs. Orders may be placed with any of the Annual salesgirls who will be situated at various points on the campus for this purpose.
